

ULTRALIFE MAX

Ultimate health, vitality and energy drink

Looking for optimum nutrition in the convenience of just one quality product? Fed up with daily 'pill popping' and concerned about the nutritional value of high street vitamin and mineral products? If you seek just one product to combat the stresses, strains and pollutants of modern life that won't infringe on your lifestyle, UK health food manufacturer Ultralife has the solution.

Ultralife Max is a superior new 3-in-1 vitamin and mineral drink that contains highly bioavailable forms of micronutrients known to be deficient in the average UK diet. One serving of Ultralife Max contains the equivalent of a single serving of Ultralife's bestselling products Ultralife Multi-Vitamins, Ultralife Fruit & Veg and Ultralife Antioxidants.

Nutritional supplementation has been shown to be one of the most cost-effective approaches to resolving the micronutritional gap in our diets. Ultralife Max is an exceptional combination product designed to support optimum nutrition, particularly for those with higher nutritional requirements and those engaged in sporting endeavours. Indeed, Ultralife Max is endorsed and used by professional British athletes.

Ultralife Max contains 13 essential vitamins and 12 key minerals, all in highly bioavailable forms. Each drink – available in tropical, orange or unflavoured varieties – also provides the same level of vitamins, minerals and phytonutrients found in 5 servings of organically grown fruit and vegetables. Lutein, which promotes healthy eyes, is also found in Ultralife Max along with a powerful dose of free radical fighting antioxidants.